NACUBO has two types of Higher Education memberships: Institutional Membership applies to non-profit, accredited institutions of higher education. Institutional members shall have the right to vote and individuals from this category of membership shall be eligible to hold elected office.

Provisional Membership applies to colleges or universities that, although not yet accredited by the appropriate regional or national organization, award credits accepted either by appropriate state agencies or by three other accredited institutions. Provisional members are ineligible to vote or individuals from these member institutions shall not be eligible to hold elected office.

An institution's membership dues amount is calculated using full time equivalent enrollment and total expenses as reported on the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS) finance form.

Full Time Equivalent Enrollment: The formula used to convert the IPEDS data to a full-time equivalent enrollment is three part-time students per one full-time student. The current membership year is using fall 2020 enrollment figures.

*Total Expenses: For public institutions that follow GASB and independent institutions that follow FASB, total expenses is the total of all functional expenses on the financial statements. The corresponding IPEDS variable for public institutions is total expenses and total net expenses for independent institutions. The current membership year is using FY2020 data.

Regional Membership is required for all NACUBO institutional members. Regions are primarily divided geographically.
