Reducing our footprint

- We’re using green power to meet 100% of our electricity needs.
- We’ve been purchasing clean, renewable energy wind credits for nine years.
- We’re a Green Power partner on the EPA’s Green Power Users List.
- We’ve had a 53% reduction in Co2 emissions, which is equal to carbon sequestered by 203,949 tree seedlings grown for ten years.

Recycling and reducing waste

- Voya had a 64% reduction in landfill waste, equal to an annual reduction of 693 tons.
- 64% of total generated waste is recycled.
- We’ve removed 593 tons of electronic waste (e-waste) from landfills since 2007.
- We’ve reduced 71% of paper consumption. That’s 394 tons less paper – 79 million sheets or enough paper to stack as high as the Empire State Building 19 times.
- We’ve reduced water use by 30%, or six million gallons.

Fostering a culture of caring

- Our partnership with Creative Chatter, an organization that redistributes donated items, encourages employees to give a second life to items they no longer need.
- Our Bring Your Own Mug (BYOM) program was instituted at all of our major locations to help reduce waste. We have saved landfills from an estimated 5 million single-use cups.
- Voya gave away milkweed seeds and encouraged employees to plant them, as an enterprise-wide Earth Week activity to help save the monarch butterfly.
- A Food Bank Raised-bed Garden project was instituted in Voya’s West Chester office where employees nurtured, cultivated and harvested more than 172 pounds of produce last summer to support the local community.
- Voya was recognized as one of the Top Green Companies in the U.S. 2015 by Newsweek magazine. We ranked No. 78 of the 500 U.S. companies for corporate sustainability and environmental impact.

Conserving energy

- Voya had a 46% reduction (25.7 million miles) in air miles flown.
- We had a 41% reduction in business miles driven, an annual average of 2.8 million miles.
- We had a 39% reduction in energy use, or 23.5 million fewer kilowatt-hours annually.
